

Khrushchev's Brilliant Stroke Wins Either Way

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—With the prospect of enormous tragedy hanging over the Middle East, Soviet Premier Khrushchev has executed another brilliant diplomatic stroke and won an important new propaganda round from the West.

Khrushchev's proposal for a hurry-up Geneva conference of the Big Four and India demonstrates his uncanny ability to turn necessity into advantage. At a single stroke he has made an attempt to cool the international temperature and directed an impressive gesture to the neutrals of the Eastern world.

Khrushchev seems to have been satisfied up to now to stay mostly on the sidelines of the Middle East conflict and to engage President Nasser's forces to new and dangerous ventures. It would suit Soviet diplomacy to have the Middle East reduced to utter chaos. But at the same time Khrushchev must avoid igniting the spark that could touch off a third world war.

His appeal for a summit conference on the Middle East is a clever solution. If it is accepted, Khrushchev gets the credit for staving off a world war. If it is rejected, the United States will bear the responsibility for the risks involved.

No matter what happens now, however, the West's influence in the Middle East is slipping.

is headed for destructive turmoil.

American and British arms and men are pouring into the Middle East, but arms and men are not going to save this region for the West. At best, these desperate measures will simply delay the final reckoning. And when that reckoning comes there may be little left for the West to salvage.

The Lebanese rebellion was the spark that touched off these flames. When it began, the United States was still suffering from its old myopia. It seemed to see the situation in the light of the cold war between two great blocks.

And because of this the West continued to make and compound its mistakes until the day arrived when the irreparable step of military intervention was undertaken in Lebanon and Jordan. But by then it had begun to look far too late to rescue the situation by diplomacy.

Western policy had doggedly refused to recognize that there could be anything good in Arab nationalism. Step by step, it drove that nationalism into the hands of extremists who rallied under the banner of an extreme Abdel Nasser.

There are still some in Jordan who think it is not too late to make a try with a gesture in the direction of Arab nationalism. This, emphatically does not mean a gesture recognizing Nasser's pre-eminence throughout the Arab world.

But it does mean recognizing that the Arabs do have some justifiable aspirations. Hussein is apparently hot to have the British join him in an attack on Iraq to restore the Hashemite throne, but the thought is fantastic to contemplate. The West has no choice but to accept the fact that the and that Iraq is headed for the United Arab Republic camp.

In his desperate grab for vast power over the oil resources feeding Europe, Nasser put aside his obvious fears of deep involvement with the Communists and sought advice and counsel from Khrushchev, before heading to Damascus to look eastward and assert his bold claim to both Iraq and Jordan.

There is no question either but that Nasser intends to make a stab in the direction of Kuwait, while applying the strongest pressure he can upon Saudi Arabia not to cooperate with Western attempts to save the situation.

If Nasser makes a definite attempt to upset the rule of Sheikh Abdullah as Salm as Sabah, in Kuwait, however the British surely will bring great military power into play and fight. Britain could survive the nationalization of Iraq Petroleum Company, but she would be in a desperate position if she were at Nasser's mercy in Kuwait.

KELOWNA—Doukhobor bombings yesterday in the Kootenays, some 150 miles from Kelowna, have confirmed the fears of security police who admitted Sunday that they expect some incident close to Princess Margaret.

"It's too quiet," a senior plainclothesman with many years of experience with the Doukhobors told me. "They've been quiet for some time now. It looks like the lull before the storm. Something is brewing."

PRIVATE DEPARTURE

The bombing of power poles at Nelson yesterday has caused RCMP to increase their security precautions. Instead of making a final public appearance in Kelowna, Princess Margaret will leave the private dock at the secluded residence she has been using while in Kelowna. Kelowna city and provincial officials will make the five-mile trip to Summergrove Farm to say goodbye.

(Stringency of the security clampdown even before news of the Kootenay bombings was shown dramatically over the weekend when a smash-and-grab thief stole goods from a Kelowna jeweler's store window. Eight plainclothesmen rushed him from all directions before he could take two steps. The robber was taken to jail, complaining bitterly.)

NOT SILLY ENOUGH

"I don't think the Douks would make a blast near her," the security officer guessed, "but I would not be surprised if they tried to embarrass the Princess by staging a nude parade. They aren't silly enough to risk hurting her physically. With some 300 Doukhobor families in the district, Kelowna was regarded as a likely point for a Doukhobor demonstration. At the Princess' last official function in Kelowna, Sunday, when she attended the service at the Church of St. Michael and All Angels, RCMP took much stronger security precautions than they did for the July 13 service in Victoria's Christ Church Cathedral.

SEARCHED, GUARDED

The church and grounds were thoroughly checked well before the service, red-coated Mounties lined the five-mile route from her estate to the church, some 20 Mounties surrounded the church, together with another 12 plainclothesmen.

As the Princess prepared to enter her car at the main door of the church one of the five escort motor cycles backfired. Plainclothesmen whirled toward it before they realized what had happened.

"I thought it was a stick of powder," one said later.

Vicious police dogs, specially trained to attack strangers, are let loose in the grounds of Summergrove Farm at night.

The Princess' first stop after leaving Kelowna this morning will be at Penticton Airport for 10 minutes. Many Doukhobor families live in the area and some of them are certain to be in the crowd at the airport. Rumors are that there will be almost as many police in the crowd as Penticton people.

Court Injunction Sends Black Ball Men to Work

Ferries Will Run Sometime Today

The provincial government yesterday obtained a court injunction ordering striking officers and engineers back to work on the Black Ball Ferries.

Crews Take Time

Striking Black Ball Ferries employees will hurry back to work slowly in obedience of a court injunction.

They will not defy the court order, but tourists and other motorists clamoring to get off Vancouver Island had better not expect any early morning sailings from Nanaimo, a union official warned last night.

"The earliest will probably be mid-day," Richard Greaves, secretary of the National Association of Marine Engineers, told The Daily Colonist from Vancouver. He indicated it could well be later.

'WON'T DEFEY IT'

"When we are assured this is a proper court order we will advise the members not to defy it," Mr. Greaves said.

"When we receive a copy of the injunction, or see the news paper advertisements, we will do all in our power to contact the men, many of whom are out fishing or away, and get them back to work."

Tie-Up Given Priority

OTTAWA (CP)—The strike against the CPR's Coast Steamship Service will get high priority from the federal cabinet this week, informants said Monday.

"One official indicated the cabinet may take some definite action toward settling the long tie-up either today or Wednesday."

But there was no firm indication of what might be done to restore operation of the fleet.

One informant said "two or three" courses are being considered. It was reported one of these might be the appointment of a federal administrator to operate the fleet while negotiations are resumed between the CPR and the striking Seafarers' International Union.

ADMIRAL HOLLOWAY
... warning toned down

Admiral's A-Boast Muted

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The defence department moved swiftly yesterday to wipe out any impression the United States expected to use atomic weapons in the current Middle East crises.

A statement drafted by top defence officials said "we cannot foresee any circumstances requiring use of atomic weapons in this situation."

The Pentagon spoke up in connection with a statement by Vice Admiral James L. Holloway, commander of U.S. forces in Lebanon, which was issued through the American embassy in Beirut.

Holloway said simply that his land, sea and air forces have "atomic capabilities." But his statement was taken as a firm warning to Russia and the United Arab Republic.

The defence department statement was apparently aimed at toning down Holloway's remarks.

Arabs Urged To Kill King

BEIRUT (UPI)—Damascus, Cairo and Baghdad radioes yesterday urged the people of Jordan to assassinate King Hussein and overthrow his government. Jordanians were told to "rise up and kill Hussein" and "revolt against the British and Zionist puppet."

Allies Challenge Reds to Lodge Complaint in UN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Western Allies drafted a note to Soviet Premier Khrushchev Monday challenging him to complain to the United Nations Security Council if he believes Anglo-American military action endangers international peace.

This was understood to be their answer to Khrushchev's bid for a summit conference to consider the Middle East crisis.

The American-British-French answer became known after President Eisenhower met for 35 minutes with State Secretary Dulles.

The answer to Khrushchev—designed to counter Khrushchev's propaganda advantage—was reported to avoid any specific proposal for a summit meeting on the Middle East even within the UN.

It ruled out any thought of an immediate heads-of-government parley in Geneva today as Khrushchev proposed.

OPEN TO ALL

The Western Allies were reported to have made these points:

The United Nations Security Council already is considering the problem of American troops in Lebanon. Any country on this 11-nation group has the right to ask the council to enlarge its work if it believes a grave danger to world peace exists.

The three western governments are ready and willing to resume confidential talks with Russia in Moscow to prepare for an overall summit conference on the great world issues which could include Middle East problems.

Canada Urges Action

OTTAWA (UPI)—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker yesterday urged western leaders to take up Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal for an immediate summit conference, but he indicated it should be held in the United Nations Security Council.

He told a hushed House of Commons that he had "personally addressed urgent messages" to President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Harold MacMillan, and Indian Prime Minister Nehru "suggesting that there be a positive and immediate response to the Khrushchev message."

Mr. Diefenbaker said, "We believe that a meeting is necessary at the top level, and I feel, too, that the United Nations Security Council in session offers the possibilities of which I will not elaborate at this time."

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The United Nations Security Council last night postponed until this morning a vote on a Japanese compromise proposal designed to strengthen the UN observer corps in Lebanon and allow the withdrawal of U.S. forces.

The United States and Britain expressed warm support for Japan's resolution and secretary-general Dag Hammarskjöld told the council he was ready to proceed immediately with steps to "expand and strengthen" the observer group into an armed force with the right to fire in self defence.

But Soviet Ambassador Arkady A. Sobolev, presaging Russia's 85th security council veto, said his delegation "cannot support the draft resolution proposed by the Japanese delegation."

Instead, Sobolev plugged for the summit conference among the heads of government proposed by Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev to be attended by the United States, Soviet Union, Britain, France, India and Hammarskjöld. Hammarskjöld informed the Kremlin tonight, in a note transmitted through Sobolev, that he would be willing to attend such a summit meeting if the other participants agreed to do so. Only India's Premier Jawaharlal Nehru has accepted thus far.

Anne Tweets, Twits Her Tardy Guards

LONDON — Princess Anne put the blast on the Buckingham Palace guards and caused a furor in the royal household.

The seven-year-old princess and a playmate were given toy police whistles and ran outside to test them.

Three quick blasts by the Queen's daughter brought guards running from all directions. But Anne didn't think the officers had arrived soon enough.

"Why didn't you come to our rescue?" said the princess. "We were blowing the official alarm signal, where were you all?"

NEWCASTLE, N.B. — An inquest Monday night ruled that no blame should be attached to British Empire light-heavyweight boxing

PORT DOVER, Ont. — Harry Davis, 25, of Montreal, gave up his flagpole-sitting stunt at this Lake Erie town Sunday night. He went up July 5 into a sixty-four cabin built on top of a flagpole on the beach, hoping to stay up 60 days and beat the world record of 59.

OTTAWA — CCF officials are hopeful that later this week at a national convention they will be able to persuade M. J. Coldwell to remain as national leader for two "more" years. Stanley Knowles said yesterday.

OTTAWA — Dr. Kwame Nkrumah is one up in the knife and fork department on President Eisenhower. Prime Minister Macmillan and West German President Theodor Heuss. The prime minister of Ghana has eaten a fish caught by Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. — Character actor Franklin Pangborn, 59, a veteran of more than 21 years before movie and television cameras, died Sunday. The veteran actor, often portrayed a blustering, confused room clerk, floor walker, or indignant passerby.

EDMONTON — RCMP Const. Carl Sandell of Espanola, Ont., killed on far northern Herschel Island, near the Yukon-Alaska border, last week, was shot to death accidentally by a civilian aiming at a seal, police sources said.

LONDON — Queen Elizabeth, slowly recovering from an attack of catarrhal sinusitis, has been ordered by her doctors to stay close to Buckingham Palace and pass up public engagements until the end of this month. Prince Philip will represent her on a scheduled visit to Wales and at closing ceremonies of the British Empire Games at Cardiff.

SAN FRANCISCO — The last two American priests to be freed by the Red Chinese arrived here by plane today. Father Cyril Wagner, 51, of Pittsburgh, and Father Joseph P. Blinding Smoke Pall Million Acres Still Blazing PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP) — Under cover of smoke, fires continued to spread through the hemlock and spruce of the British Columbia northland yesterday.

Aircraft have been grounded, pinned down by the density of the smoke, and observation posts are blotted out.

A forestry service official estimated that 1,000,000 acres of timber was still crackling in flames.

The number of known fires burning in the vast Prince George forest district is 49, bringing the total this season to 256 fires.

With two months of the season still to go, the previous record of 343 fires has long since been broken. The record was set in 1938.

In heavy timber 30 miles east of here, at Purdon Lake, a new 700-acre fire was burning out of control.

Near Mile 70 on the Hart Highway, 3,000 acres are burning in another fire. Another fire is burning at Tacheeda Lake.

In the whole Prince George district, 659 men and 40 machines are fighting fires.

Chief of the Vancouver forest district, D. B. Taylor, said the number of fires so far this year is more than double the total last year.

Fighting costs this year have gone over $1,000,000. Last year the figure was $104,000.

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (UPI) — A south wind and light rains yesterday helped to turn a wall of fire that threatened this capital of the Yukon Territory. During the weekend residents prepared to evacuate the city but the alert was later called off.

PM Probes Patronage

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker was reported to have promised to investigate cases of political patronage brought to his attention by civil service organizations.

B.C. Woods Powder Keg

Explosive fire situation in the B.C. coast areas continued to build up yesterday with no sign of an easing of the situation, B.C. forest service officials said yesterday.

District forester Douglas B. Taylor said the situation was the worst he has seen in 37 years' service.

A complete closure is in effect in the vast Vancouver and Prince Rupert forest districts.

Princess' Own Island Closed, Too

Forest service officials warned yachtsmen yesterday that the complete closure in the Vancouver forest district covered the Gulf Islands as well as Vancouver Island and the mainland.

The warning followed reports that people had been visiting Portland Island, renamed Princess Margaret Island, which the provincial government gave the Princess during her visit here.

Forest service officials said no pleasure boat operators may land on any of the small islands off Vancouver Island for camping or any other purpose without a special permit.

"This is completely contrary to law," said a spokesman. "There is only one developed marine park in this area, Sidney Spit."

Hypnosis Saves 11-Floor Climb

DETROIT (AP) — With the aid of hypnosis, Mrs. Helen Stedman yesterday took her first elevator ride in 12 years without fainting.

For years she has been climbing the 286 steps to her 11th-floor job as a court clerk—and back down at night. She sought the aid of Anthony S. Rogers, president of the Detroit Hypnotic Association, who placed her in a trance and assured her she could ride elevators without ill effects.

Howson Conquered

Victorian Scales Fatal Mountain

A Victoria mountain climber was one of a party that conquered rugged 9,000-foot Mount Howson for the first time, in a climb made in memory of an other Victoria district climber killed there last year.

The ascent of Mount Howson, 300 miles east of Terrace, was made last week by A. W. Lash, of 4078 Cedar Hill Road and John Owen, Vancouver, and leader Ulf Bitterlich of Port Alberni.

Before the ascent the trio built a cairn on the south side of the mountain and placed an inscribed bronze plaque in it, in memory of Maj. Rex Gibson of the Alpine Club of Canada, who was killed in a 200-foot fall on the west ridge last August.

On his fourth attempt to scale the peak, a falling rock struck him on the head and he fell, dragging two companions with him.

The two, Dr. Sterling Hendricks of Silver Springs, Md., and Don Hubbard of Washington, D.C., were injured.

Last week's party reached the summit and returned safely.

Is Teacher Too Secure?

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP) — Vancouver Island school trustees want authority to dismiss incompetent teachers—which they say would require amending three sections of the public schools act.

J. S. Williams, president of the Island Trustees Association, said it is "practically impossible at the moment, to get rid of an incompetent teacher." Resolution asks that trustees be given the right to dismiss teachers when dismissal is recommended by the district school superintendent and backed unanimously by the school board.

Now He's Glad He Never Was Royal Changeling

By TED SHACKLEFORD
Colonist Staff Reporter

KELOWNA — When I was about 10 years old I managed to persuade myself I was a changeling—that I had been born into a royal family and somehow got mixed up with Mr. and Mrs. Shackelford's bawling brat.

This pleasant little fantasy kept me happy for a while, particularly when I was punished for something—I could hardly wait to be recognized and given my rightful place in society so I could get my revenge.

Now, after some 10 days covering Princess Margaret's royal tour of British Columbia I'm glad I never was recognized as a prince in disguise. In those 10 days Princess Margaret has done more real work than almost anyone on the tour—travelling, meeting people, seeing things, doing things, attending things and smiling, smiling, smiling all through it.

GOLDFISH BOWL

Every time I've seen the Princess meet anyone, from a flower girl to a mayor, she had a radiant smile for them, a pleasant word or two, and much less privacy than a goldfish in a bowl. The crowds watching their Princess have been frighteningly at times—as many as 40,000 eyes focused on one tiny person for something—I could hardly must be frightening. And at times, notably on the Kelowna bridge when the crowd broke through and surrounded the Princess, even experienced plainclothes police heavily sprinkled through the crowd were alarmed.

But she never lost her composure, just kept walking beside Premier Bennett and chatting to him. Even a heavy cloud of dust stirred up when people stampeded to get close to her was ignored.

Veteran reporters have commented on how well the Princess is standing up to the tour. The only sign of the tension she must feel much of the time is the faint blue rimming her eyes. She must know that she is in Doukhobor country and the fears of the police must be obvious to her.

Genuine Gold Nugget

A genuine gold nugget panned from a B.C. stream is handed to Princess Margaret by a bearded sourdough at Williams Lake. The nugget is real enough but it was planted in the stream and the sourdough is millionaire Mayor Alex Moffat, dressed like a prospector. (CPC).

Carefree Day in the Sun

KELOWNA — It was a care-free day for Princess Margaret. There were no official ceremonies Monday, no formal greetings, and no miles of travel.

In the seclusion of beautiful Summergrove Farm estate, the Princess Margaret and her entourage relaxed on the shores of scenic Lake Okanagan.

It was picnic weather, warm and bright, with moonlit nights. She sat in the glow of a beach campfire Sunday night after an afternoon of sunbathing and swimming.

"I love this country," she is reported to have told members of the Royal party. "I just love it."

The 25-acre estate offers almost complete privacy, free from scanning camera eyes and the curious.

Her dress has been informal, summery frocks and low heeled

But today it is back to protocol and travel, official ceremonies, inspections, and more travel.

While the Princess played, there was no relaxation for the security guard.

Dozens of RCMP officers patrolled the estate and adjacent roadways. Day and night the patrols were maintained.

Princess Margaret turned chief at a beach party-barbecue Sunday night, cooking steaks for about half the 20 guests. Later she watched a CBC-TV film of the first part of her centennial tour of the province.

New Parking Problem

LAUNCHING ramps for motorboats are adding greatly to the pleasure of boating. They are also creating problems which should have been foreseen but apparently were not. After a boat has been put into the water the car and its trailer, taking up twice the amount of space required for a single automobile, have to be left somewhere; and naturally enough many drivers find the nearby streets made to order.

The upshot of this is that the public streets are suffering congestion, and ultimately something will have to be done to relieve them. Beach Drive, for example, is a scenic route which should be kept clear for sightseeing traffic. But all weekend and most summer evenings it is cluttered with parked cars with trailers attached, leaving little or no room for visitors to pause to admire the view. It is scarcely fair to local residents either to have the roadway outside their houses pre-empted in this way. There is off-street parking space at Oak Bay Boathouse, but either it is not big enough or else many boating car drivers are too lazy to use it.

This narrowing of the streets is occurring at most of the places where launching ramps have been constructed, and people living in the vicinity have good cause to complain. Nor is it merely for an hour or so. Many of those who park cars and trailers at the curbside stay out in their boats all day and sometimes all weekend; and on week days until nearly 10 o'clock at night. Thus a well-intentioned facility for some is rapidly developing into a nuisance for others.

These launching ramps are a splendid idea, but in future more thought will have to be given to the matter of parking space. Additional ramps in various locations are in the planning stage, and due to the increasing popularity of trailer-hauled boats many others no doubt will be laid down as time goes by. Before any more are approved it would appear to be a wise precaution to stipulate the provision of adequate off-street parking space for the temporarily abandoned vehicles. That might present difficulties in some instances, but it would be better not to construct a ramp at all than to allow one in a place where it would impede the normal use of the streets.

Too Much of Everything

IN THE country which introduced and popularized the cheap, mass-produced automobile designed for utility it strikes one as a little strange to see more and more industrial organizations and transport operators turning to foreign manufacturers for the very feature which made the American automobile famous. Air travellers through Seattle, for example, will now find ground transportation between airports or to the city centre provided in small but adequate European vehicles.

The trend towards imported vehicles in the interest of economy is becoming more and more pronounced. Recently West Coast Telephone Company of Everett, Washington, replaced its entire fleet of American-made cars and trucks with German vehicles, and was able to announce the other day that as a result it had cut operating and maintenance costs in half. The company's stated reason for this desertion from United States industry is a revealing commentary on the shortcomings of the North American designers. "American automobile manufacturers," the company explained, "appear to have lost sight of the philosophy that made them pre-eminent 40 years ago; they have forgotten that their greatest success was due to the policy of placing purely functional, simple automobiles in the hands of as many people as possible at as low a price as possible. Business people are now paying too much for too much unwanted horsepower, associated with too much gasoline consumption, too much expensive maintenance, too much insurance, and in fact too much of everything except utility at a low cost."

Notwithstanding the growing evidence of dissatisfaction with the products of Detroit in instances where utility and economy are the factors sought, the industry itself appears to be set against a return to the type of car which made Detroit what it is today. This is an attitude of concern to the Canadian automobile industry as well, since in all visible respects the Canadian and United States cars are identical. Surely the increasing popularity of small cars imported from England and Europe would indicate a bright future for the manufacturer with the initiative to market something to fill an obvious need.

A Full and Valuable Life

VICTORIA lost one of those who belonged to the salt of the earth when Frank M. Kelley died over the weekend. Quiet, selfless, seeking no personal glory, he spent his working life for the betterment of the island he had adopted and in service to his fellows. There are many circles all over Vancouver Island who will hear of his passing with genuine regret.

Nowhere will memories be more tinged with sadness than in The Daily Colonist, for here his worth as a man and as a colleague was readily recognized. He was this newspaper's marine editor for many years, the dean of the Victoria waterfront in the prewar days when Ogden Point was a mecca for the shipping of the seven seas. There are men all over the world who remember the slightly limping figure who talked their language, knew their craft, and was a welcome friend every time he went aboard.

Mr. Kelley had a backlog of experience that stood him well. He was the son of a sea captain, he had been a prospector, he had assisted in shipyard management, he knew something of the stage and of map making, he had walked the wilderness area of this island as no one before him. When, as later he did by voice and pen, he spoke of the native riches and the development of this island he did so as a full man, knowing well whereof he spoke. His influence along this line extended far and near.

One other valuable service he performed linked him with the Battle of Britain. He was the aide of the late Captain H. Seymour-Biggs in efforts to open up the RAF as a career for many B.C. boys, in spite of official Canadian opposition, and hundreds of them were fit and ready in the desperate hours of 1940. That was something that always gave him fine satisfaction.

Mr. Kelley was a wise, humorous and kindly man and he has left an immense legacy of good will behind him. All who knew him felt the better of that privilege. And it is with these sentiments in mind that the Colonist extends to his family its deepest sympathy in their bereavement.

The Canada Council

CANADIAN talent is making itself known in this country and abroad to a greater degree than ever before. The Canada Council said in its first annual report, covering its activities up to March 31, 1958.

During the year the Council assisted organizations to tour Canada, the United States and Europe.

At home grants to the arts, humanities and social sciences led to increased activities and improved standards.

During the year 13 grants totalling $4,084,300 were made out of the University Capital Grants Fund. Since then another 12 grants totalling $3,867,700 have been made.

In the period covered by the report 324 scholarships and fellowships (many including travel) in 10 categories have been given for a total of $640,000, with another 101 since added for a total of $144,833.

Grants to individuals for special projects numbered 12 costing $27,950, with seven added since for a total of $11,530.

Grants to organizations numbered 53, totalling $739,200, with another 25 added since totalling $316,250.

During this first year $806,850 was spent in support of the arts and $600,300 in support of the humanities and social sciences. Since the end of the year another $264,000 has been spent on the arts and $205,635 on the humanities and social sciences.

Under The Canada Council Act $50 million was appropriated to the University Capital Grants Fund. This fund furnishes grants of up to one-half the cost of university buildings to be used for the arts, humanities and social sciences. Capital and interest of this will probably be expended within 10 years.

The money in the University Capital Grants Fund is invested in short term Government of Canada securities, with an average yield on cost of about 4.3 per cent. At the end of the fiscal year realized profits on security transactions amounted to $183,000 and the market value of the portfolio was $1,388,000 above cost.

Another $50 million is in the Endowment Fund on which only interest can be spent. There are no restrictions on the investment of this fund.

The Endowment Fund yields an annual revenue of about $2,700,000, a return on capital of about 5.4 per cent. Realized profits on security transactions during the year approximated $854,000, and the market value of securities at March 31 was $1,037,000 in excess of cost.

"The experience of The Canada Council and the reception it has received have shown that there is much more going on in the arts in Canada than many Canadians suppose," the report said. "Moreover, there is, it is believed, more talent, keener interest and greater activity than ever before."

The Council found that each category of individual awards drew a number of qualified applicants. Within a year assistance to individuals is expected to reach one million dollars annually, and to be extended to about 500 residents and 100 non-residents.

... of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

WHEN I was across the water I bought a book on Lawrence and so when I read about Nuri Said I thought back to the "Seven Pillars" of the Arabian revolt of 1916.

If you haven't read this book you've missed a literary landmark of the twentieth century, whatever your views of the legendary T. E. Lawrence.

I was reminded of it because Nuri Said is one of the chief Arab characters in the book and if you are sympathetic to the aspirations of the Arabs of those days—and it's hard not to be with Lawrence as a mentor—he emerges as a gallant young figure. Quite the best of the lot, perhaps, after Feisal himself, leaving out Auda who came straight from the Arabian Nights.

The years create a difference, of course, and 10,000 miles away it's difficult to know what to think of Arabs, except that they're very much like ourselves. They want to paddle their own canoes and they can quarrel among themselves with the same exquisite abandon that we can.

Indeed in many ways the human race is so alike it's almost a relief to turn to what some folks consider to be their ancestors. I won't cite these by name lest you be offended but you can see them swinging publicly in cages in Vancouver if, happily, not in Victoria.

A psychiatrist might be able here to differentiate between the two cities, by the way.

But the first of this month was the centenary of the Darwin exposure, proving that Darwin was in good company; this was the year that British Columbia and the Daily Colonist also began their separate climbs to fame.

Climbing, it could be said, was the crux of the argument Darwin started, although in a much different context from either B.C. or the Colonist. Much of the controversy has died down as the schism between creation and evolution has been bridged by later thought and a better perception of the Darwinian thesis.

But people didn't like being told they were monkeys in a dress suit, as it were. There's really no good reason why monkeys should like the comparison, either, and if they knew about Darwin they'd probably erupt like the Middle East.

I don't suppose you've ever quite appreciated that point; but remember that even a monkey should get a square deal.

Nuri Said didn't get one, notwithstanding a life spent in the service of his race. Some day, perhaps, when the Arab world is united and in friendly liaison with nations which have pale faces, they'll erect a monument to him.

Reading the papers these days you might think this a queer, vague, fanciful hope, and I notice that Billy Graham is quoted as saying the doom of the world will come where the world began—in the Middle East. I thought he had more faith in things than that, and I doubt this is the kind of philosophy to pack the crowds to his meetings.

Perhaps, of course, I'm over optimistic this morning—I am certainly confused, as the foregoing indicates, although it's a topsy-turvy world and who wouldn't be confused. But I've recently been in a land once torn by a conflict as stern and unyielding as anything ever seen since, yet a day came when animosity was stilled and the warring factions managed to bury both the hatchet and the sword.

What happened once can happen again, for history does repeat itself even if in varying guise, and on a wider scale.

It's comforting to think so, any way. It helps to keep one sane and perhaps from reflecting that maybe we'd all be better off swinging not in cages but through the trees.

APPREHENSION that the landing of U.S. and British troops in Lebanon and Jordan might spark a third world war was by no means the cause of all of Ottawa's uneasiness and concern over this unilateral action by our NATO partners.

Comment by both the government and the Liberal opposition on the situation has been restrained. But in a good many minds here there is a disquieting realization that serious harm may be done to the United Nations in its role as the world's peace-watcher—especially as the American move followed a report by UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld that there was no real evidence of men and arms being sent from the United Arab Republic to aid the Lebanese rebels.

Both Foreign Minister Smith and Liberal leader Pearson described the U.S. action as "necessary." That was as far as they went. Neither voiced warm approval. Both would obviously have preferred action under the UN aegis, but the UN Security Council, frozen in futility by the Soviet veto, was powerless. And Lebanon likely would have been lost if the West had pinned its hopes on action belated, if any—by the General Assembly under the "Uniting for Peace" resolution.

The UN is a cornerstone of Canadian foreign policy. But its load capacity is bound to be decreased by the landings in the Levant. And despite the fact that the local governments asked the Americans and British in— a reason for intervention which the West rejected in the case of Hungary—the moves are part of the potentially catastrophic game of great power politics. They are not in keeping with the UN concept of collective security through the adherence of all nations to the principles of the UN charter. But then, Russia's record since the rape of Czechoslovakia and the Berlin blockade affords scant cause for condemning what the Americans and British did last week.

OF ALL DOGS, few are more immediately endearing than the newly popular poodle. Of all dog owners, few are more immediately endearing than poodle owners.

Into the suburban bus stepped the perfect poodle owner and her poodle on a leash—a charming lady in the indeterminate thirties, sparingly made up, sparsely clothed, blonde curls short and crisp, all visible cuticle suitably sun-tanned, or with suitable facsimile thereof.

She led the poodle to the back of the bus where there is a wide communal seat for six or five, depending on breadth. She seated herself with ranch-type ease, and the poodle hopped up beside her.

MPs and Security

(From The Edmonton Journal)

THE CCF group in the House of Commons deserves full marks for persistence but that is about all that can be said for its efforts to obtain information as to whether the RCMP has dossiers on any members of Parliament. Last year it was Harold Winch who raised the question. In earlier years it was other members. This year it was Frank Howard, CCF member for Skeena, who wanted to know whether the RCMP had secret files on any members involved. Justice Minister Fulton refused to say.

Canada is far different from many other countries where there are secret police files on practically everybody. However, there are dossiers on many thousands of Canadians as a result of investigations carried out by the Special Branch of the RCMP in the interests of the security of this nation. The work of the Special Branch obviously must be kept completely secret.

As the case of Communist Fred Rose proved, just because a person has been elected a member of Parliament does not mean he could not be a subversive agent.

Psychology Vs. Force

By GEN. SIR JOHN GLUBB

IT IS STILL too early to foresee the possible results from the coup d'état in Baghdad—insolent as can be ascertained, however, it appears to bear a remarkable similarity to the Egyptian operation which, six years ago, resulted in the dethronement of King Farouk and the ultimate consolidation of Colonel Nasser's military revolutionary government.

There does not appear to have been originally any logical or inevitable reason why the revolutionary government of Egypt should have become hostile to the West, nor is there any reason why Britain and America should be hostile to Arab nationalism as a whole.

It is essential for the Western powers to work together, to think clearly and to avoid the errors which they committed in Egypt. All the violent disturbances in the Arab countries since the Second World War have taken their origin from the same cause: the anxiety of the younger generation to feel themselves equal to the peoples of the West. The suspicion that Western nations consider them inferior has haunted many Arabs ever since the termination of the First World War.

The rapid extension of education and the ease and speed of air travel have led to greater familiarity between the Arabs and the West, and closer knowledge of the Western nations has not always inspired the Arabs with greater respect. Thus the desire to emulate the West has been reinforced by the impression that the peoples of Britain and America are not so wonderful as the Arabs had formerly imagined.

Russian, and subsequently Arab propaganda, has done much to aggravate these tendencies. The United States and Britain have been represented as grasping, reactionary and tyrannical, and desirous of obstructing and opposing progress and modernization in the Arab countries. Another grudge borne by the majority of Arabs against the West results from the common conviction that the United States, France and Britain were the creators and supporters of Israel. Many in fact allege that the Western powers assisted in the formation of Israel not from a philanthropic desire to assist persecuted Jews but as part of a deliberate plot to weaken and destroy the Arab renaissance.

Neither of these charges is true. The American and British peoples do not desire to dominate the Arabs, or to hamper their development, nor do they seek to use Israel as a tool with which to weaken them. But it is a measure of their lack of skill in the psychological field that such beliefs are widely held by educated Arabs.

Not only have the Western powers failed to convince many Arabs of their good intentions, but the petty jealousies which have so frequently divided Americans and British in the Middle East have done much to weaken the position of both.

The successive upheavals which have taken place in the Arab countries have therefore been caused by certain prevalent ideas held by Arabs—beliefs that the Western powers regard them as inferior, desire to retard their progress and will always support Israel against them.

False ideas of this kind, can only be opposed by the dissemination of the facts—that the Western powers do not desire to dominate or exploit the Arabs and that they will not support Israeli expansion at the expense of any Arab country. In a final analysis, indeed, the interests of Britain and America in the Arab countries are largely negative.

Were the Arabs to become mere satellites of Soviet Russia, the commercial and strategic interests of the West would suffer a disastrous setback. But it is unlikely that the Arab nationalists desire to be dominated by Russia, any more than by Britain or America.

Their present apparent Russian leanings are due to a belief in the evil intentions of the West, rather than to any affection for the Communists.

In view of the fact that the Arabs suspect the West of the desire to dominate them, the threat to use force can only aggravate the situation.

Such actions as the Suez operation in 1956 and the demonstrations in the eastern Mediterranean by the American Sixth Fleet serve only to provide material for hostile propaganda. The trouble in the Middle East is psychological and ideas can not be defeated by soldiers and warships.

All that Britain and the U.S.A. want in the Arab countries is the ability to trade, to pass their ships through the Suez Canal and to exploit the oil fields in partnership with the Arabs.

The course to be followed by the Western powers is therefore obvious. Firstly, it is essential for the United States and Britain to speak evenly, with one voice. Secondly, they should realize that the problem is largely psychological and that many Arabs believe the West to be hostile to Arab nationalism. Such ideas cannot be eradicated by the threat of force, but only by the dissemination of truer ideas and ideals.

Letters to the Editor

Incendiary World

Many Canadians sympathize with American oil companies who are about to lose an investment of $3,000,000,000 in the Middle East. These same Canadians, however, do not wish to suffer the horrors of nuclear warfare in support of American oil interests. It is truly amazing how clearly the real issues in the Middle East are now stated: witness the send troops into Iraq unless oil shipments to us are stopped. Could not Canada help to supply the U.S. with oil in such an emergency, if recent restrictions were removed? There is a glut rather than a scarcity of oil in the world today.

If Western nations can enter a country without UN sanction, how is this different from the Russian invasion of Hungary?

This incendiary world cannot stand many more such crises. The people of every land are hungry for peace, but threats, name-calling and armed intervention lead hideously and inexorably to war.

Some of us have written and wired our prime minister asking that Canada initiate or support a resolution in the UN asking for withdrawal of U.S. troops from Lebanon. If democracy is more than a word, every Canadian citizen has a duty to make his opinion known to his government in this time of decision.

May I be permitted through the medium of your valuable columns to extend my thanks to the people who had the interest to visit a polling station to give me their support, in the recent election.

Although unsuccessful on this occasion, I do promise everyone in Saanich that I will fight on their behalf, from the outside, until such time that it is felt I should be on the inside of council.

It is deplorable to see such lack of interest by the people on their own affairs and I do plead with all who have votes, to use them in the future; then the successful candidates, may be able to say they represent the majority and not the minority, and it will give them more confidence to tackle affairs in this fast growing area.

Trifling Contretemps

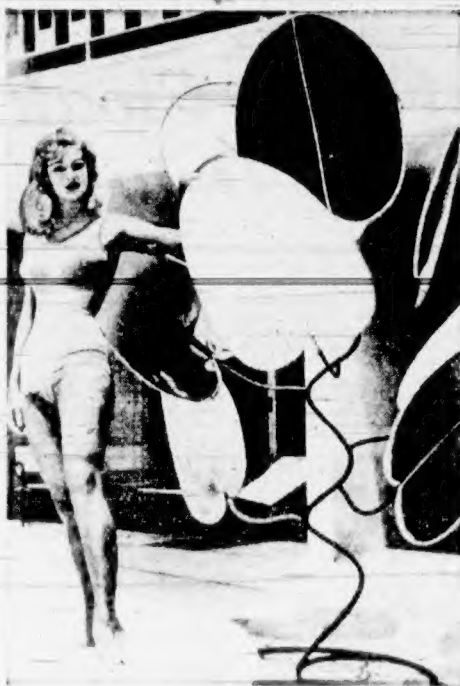

If your correspondents in Thursday's paper feel their loyalty shaken because their children did not see Princess Margaret, it cannot be very deep.

We all seem to have gone overboard where children are concerned. They must be spotlighted and pushed forward and be given a mistaken idea of their own importance no matter how simply have said, "Yes, it is disappointing, but we all get disappointments in this world. No one would have had 'sleepless nights' or 'felt better' over such a trifling contretemps.

If the children had not been "standing in the hot sun" they would probably have been playing in it anyway. It seems inevitable that when we have visiting dignitaries someone thinks their toes have been stepped on and gives tongue. It is a pity, because one sour note can spoil what would otherwise be a happy occasion.

Witness Denies All Wrongdoing

VANCOUVER (CP) — The first witness in the Sommers bribery-conspiracy trial Monday but got from him only denials of any wrongdoing by his company, the multi-million-dollar concern of B.C. Forest Products Limited.

Under close and sometimes stern questioning by prosecutor Victor Dryer, B.C. Forest vice-president Thomas Burgess denied that a report received from another accused in the case was "only a cloak" to cover up a $15,000 payment. He also denied the prosecutor's suggestion that an agreement between B.C. Forest and H. W. Gray was merely to "ensure the cooperation of the minister of lands and forests in working out a forest management licence."

It was Burgess' sixth straight day in the witness box in the 41st day of the trial which involves former lands and forests minister Robert Sommers.

Repeated Clashes

The prosecutor clashed repeatedly with the witness, insisting that Mr. Burgess give direct answers. Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson a number of times instructed Burgess to answer directly.

The prosecutor questioned Burgess at length on a $2,500 payment by B.C. Forest to Gray which the witness previously said was given to cover Gray's expenses for a trip to Toronto with Sommers late in 1953.

Mr. Dryer suggested $2,500 was a lot of money for the expenses of one man to go to Toronto. Burgess said he was not going only to Toronto but to Ottawa and the U.S. as well.

"Why was it charged to political donations?"

"I wouldn't know."

The prosecutor asked why Gray should go at all. Why couldn't the company's late president, Hector Munro—who died last December — arrange for the minister to see eastern directors of the company?

Burgess said it was felt Gray should go since he was a friend of the minister.

"There was some doubt," he said, "as to whether Mr. Sommers would drop in at Toronto and Gray went along to see that he did."

There were snickers among the spectators.

Burgess said he didn't know whether B.C. Forest paid Mr. Sommers' hotel bill in Toronto.

The prosecutor suggested that before 1953, when the first $15,000 payment was made to Pacific, there was only one prior payment, for $192.10.

Burgess said, "I don't know."

Mr. Sloan said the two firms did answer some questions about their operations in reply to a questionnaire he had sent to all licence holders but that they had refused to give details other than on a confidential

Two Swim Okanagan

PENTICTON (CP) — A 19-year-old coed, whose idyllic and 36 minutes after entering Marilyn Bell, and a 38-year-old housewife Sunday became co-conquerors of the 34.6 miles from Kelowna to Penticton down Lake Okanagan.

For Pat Wicks of Vancouver, the University of British Columbia, it was the first attempt at the swim. She finished first.

For Mrs. Ann Meraw of Vancouver it was the third attempt after two failures. She eclipsed her own world endurance record for lake swimming by being in the water 32½ hours.

Bill Sadlo, a swimming instructor from Long Island, N.Y., also making the Okanagan attempt, was pulled from the water early Sunday saying it was "just too tough." He had started half an hour after Mrs. Meraw, who in turn started four hours after Miss Wicks Saturday.

An estimated crowd of 10,000 lined the lakeshore here as Miss Wicks walked from the 75-de-

A few hours later word was received that Mrs. Meraw was nearing the shore.

The excited crowd doubled to 20,000 and chants of "Go Ann, go," rang out across the darkened lake to guide her to the beach.

At 10:40 p.m. she walked from the water unaided and said she felt "fine but a little dizzy." She was taken to hospital for a checkup.

Accompanying Miss Wicks was her coach, Dr. Jerry Cline of Vancouver, and two helpers, in a boat. Mrs. Meraw was accompanied by swimmer Pat Roach of Toronto, her coach, in a pilot boat.

She was given a sedative and put to bed at the home of a friend. She dozed off into a fitful sleep, her arms and legs moving restlessly as if she were still swimming.

Prisoner Calls Tune

MONTREAL (CP) — It was one of those days in arraignment court when the customer was right.

Emile Boisvert, 50, pleaded guilty to stealing $50 worth of jewelry.

"For how long do you want to go to jail?" asked Judge Henri Masson Loranger.

"Oh, about two years," Boisvert replied. He got two years.

Campy says, "I'll walk again!"

Now, in a Saturday Evening Post exclusive, the great Dodger catcher Roy Campanella tells of his agonizing struggle against death since the night of his tragic accident six months ago. Speaking from the hospital bed, Campy tells:

Exactly what happened that fateful January night when his car turned over.

How much progress he has made in his battle against paralysis. What the doctors expect of his future.

Why, for a long time after the crash, he refused to see even his own children.

The part his wife, Ruthie, has played in his recovery up to now. His present relationship with the Dodger ball club.

And you'll learn what's given Campy the most comfort and solace during his long ordeal... how he's reacted to visitors and the encouragement of fans, including Ike and Nixon... why he says one of the greatest days of his life came when he lifted a little rubber ball in his hospital bed... and why he's determined to get back into baseball!

Read Roy Campanella's own story, "I'll Walk Again," in this week's Saturday Evening Post.

Yanks Barred, Pub Prospers

LONDON (UPI) — The Daily Herald reported Monday that the manager of a pub near the U.S. air force base at suburban Ruislip has closed his doors to Americans and is doing a roaring business.

It quoted the owner of the Eastcote Arms, Jack Powell, as saying "business has boomed since the ban went on." He described the U.S. airmen who formerly visited the pub as "rude, inconsiderate, noisy and impossible."

Another inflationary indication is the long term bond market which is continuing to show weakness in face of the government of Canada's new conversion bonds with yields of 4 1/2 and 4 3/4 per cent.

It may be that these bonds will set the standard for long-term borrowing not only in Canada but also in the United States. Some market experts are beginning to feel that this high borrowing rate for long-term money is here to stay so that municipalities and corporations may be forced into the shorter term type of securities if they seek lower cost of borrowing.

The United States government is face to face with such a problem. Four-fifths of all its borrowing are due to be redeemed within the next five years — a $220,000,000 burden that will hang heavily over the longer term market for many moons.

With the completion July 10, of its $83,000,000 pulp and paper expansion project at Port Alberni, MacMillan and Bloedel has now fulfilled its agreement with the provincial government in respect of its tree farm licence No. 21.

The increased production at Port Alberni calls for three times as much wood as was used by the original pulp mill there, and the company states that much of this timber has to be bought from local independent logging operators.

The new mill at Port Alberni now has four machines — two newsprint and two pulp — with a daily capacity of 700 tons of newsprint, 250 tons of market pulp and 200 tons of kraft paper.

The expansion has raised the...

Aluminum Ltd. is expanding its interests in French West Africa with a $125,000,000 project for the extraction of bauxite and the production of alumina.

The plant will be in the Boké region about 180 miles north-east of the existing $13,000,000 plant at Iles de Los in French Guinea.

According to "Foreign Trade," fortnightly publication of the department of trade and commerce, the Boké project now in construction will be ready to export its first bauxite in 1963 and alumina in 1965. A large part of it is expected to go to aluminum installations in Canada.

No Outsiders To Barge In

Little likelihood exists of outside ferry or barge companies coming to British Columbia's aid should the Black Ball Ferry strike continue for some time.

Some attempts were being made at Nanaimo yesterday to arrange transportation by barge to the Mainland of passenger vehicles as well as trucks.

But a suggestion that a similar operation might be undertaken here met little response.

An Island Tug and Barge spokesman here said:

"We have barges that could do the job, but they are in use elsewhere."

"If the strike does go on for some length of time, we might possibly do something... but everybody's just in a panic now."

Robert Acheson, Seattle, president of Black Ball Transport Inc., American firm that will have a $2,500,000 vessel running between Victoria and the U.S. next year, said:

"There isn't anything available to do the job... there are just no boats."

Wright Collapses From Exhaustion

Costs Reduce Airline Profits

OTTAWA (CP) — Higher operating costs reduced the 1957 profits of Canada's commercial airlines to about one-fifth of their 1956 record surplus, the bureau of statistics reported Monday.

Operating revenues rose 3.6 per cent to $188,695,000 from $182,169,000 in 1956 but operating expenses increased by 7.2 per cent to $187,118,000 from $174,582,000.

This resulted in a surplus of $1,577,000, down from $7,587,000 in 1956.

Revenue passengers carried by Canadian airlines increased 12 per cent to 3,720,000 from 3,321,000.

Norman Wright of Sidney, leader of the amazing and loudly-hailed community effort to help stranded ferry passengers, collapsed yesterday of exhaustion and was taken home.

Ian Ross, who has taken a prominent part in the discomfort-easing work, has taken over Mr. Wright's work.

It is estimated that more than 200 volunteers have taken part in the community effort.

Task of extended visitors was handled by Betty Eckert, who has managed the hastily arranged lunch counter in Sidney's community hall.

She was assisted by scores of women from every church and social group in the district.

Robin Anderson directed parking and ticketing of cars in the Beacon Avenue Memorial Park.

Cpl. William Stanton and Roger Post of Sidney RCMP have been on duty constantly, handling an unprecedented flow of traffic. But there haven't been any accidents or any crime.

There were about 280 cars left in the park last night, with extra ferries scheduled to take 160 during the night.

When provincial government employees had vacated their parking lot at Belleville and Government, space for 200 cars was made available for waiting Washington State Ferries passengers "for the duration of the emergency."

Auto Courts Sound Urgent Call for Aid

CAMPBELL RIVER — An urgent call for federal action to settle the tie-up of ferry service between Vancouver Island and the mainland has gone out from the Auto Court Association here.

OTTAWA (CP) — A total of 4,852 persons viewed Sir Winston Churchill's paintings Sunday at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts, for a six-day total attendance of 16,252 persons. The paintings are to be shown at Vancouver this week.

Meat Prices To Stay Up

VANCOUVER (CP) — Earle S. Manning, managing director of the Meat Packers Council of Canada, has predicted that meat prices in Canada will not drop in the foreseeable future.

He added that there is evidence of some herd liquidation in Saskatchewan as a result of a drought-created feed shortage in that province. That would step up the already high rate of cattle export to the United States, the major factor contributing to the high cost of meat here.

When provincial government employees had vacated their parking lot at Belleville and Government, space for 200 cars was made available for waiting Washington State Ferries passengers "for the duration of the emergency."

Seek Berth in Babe Ruth World Series

Shooting for a berth in the Babe Ruth world series, which will be held in Vancouver this year for the first time in history, Victoria League all-stars will compete in provincial tournament at Penikese Thursday through Sunday. Members of the Island championship team are, left to right, front row: Bob Holness, Rod Fuller, Barry

Ball Sets Pace For Qualifiers

Gordie Ball, a member of Ontario's championship, Willington Cup team, shot a four-under-par 67 yesterday to lead the field of 186 in the first qualifying round of the 54th Canadian amateur golf championship at Toronto.

A second 18-hole qualifying round will be played today with the low scorers going into the tournament proper, which is match play.

Thirteen players managed to break par yesterday with six more equalling it. Another seven were bunched at 72.

Laurie Kerr of Victoria shot 39.37-76, and his chances of qualifying appear slim. Doug Bajus and Bob Kidd of Vancouver, both shot 70's. Johnny Johnston, fourth member of B.C.'s Willington Cup team, had a 72.

Martin Stonovich, 240-pound golfer from Chicago, scored an eagle three on the 10th, and came in with a 69 to tie for the runner-up spot with Robert Bruce of Milwaukee and Jack Penrose of Miami Beach.

Nick Weslock of Windsor, 1957 champion, shot a par 71, as did Dick Chapman of Oysterville, Mass., the 1949 winner, and this year's favorite.

Ties for last qualifying places will be decided by playoffs. It appeared that 150, possibly 152, might be needed.

FRANK SHAUGHNESSY, president of the International Baseball League, yesterday fined the Toronto Maple Leafs $100 for allowing their public address announcer to second-guess and "disparage" an umpire's decision. The incident occurred Friday in a game with Montreal Royals. Toronto coach Lou Kahn had been ejected by umpire Frank Guzman for claiming that a three-run homer by Solly Drake had curved foul. "It was apparent to everyone that the ball was foul," barked the PA system announcer. . . . The Leafs have purchased pitcher Ray Crone from San Francisco Giants. . . . Two German sprinters, Helms Fuetterer and Armin Hary, Sunday ran the 100-meter dash in 9.2 seconds, best time in the world this year. . . . Threatens Shakeup

Whitey Blasts Listless Irish

Coach Whitey Severson is mad, and heads may be rolling if Victoria Shamrocks don't win tonight's Inter-City Lacrosse League game against Vancouver Pilseners.

Severson, angered at his club's off-color performance in Saturday's 12-7 defeat at the hands of Nanaimo Timbermen, threatened last night to call up junior players in wholesale numbers if the Rocks don't snap out of their recent doldrums.

"I still think we can make the playoffs," Severson reported. "But if we don't go better in Vancouver then I'll bring in a whole junior line if necessary."

NOT ENOUGH
"Some of our players seem to think all you need in this game is a reputation. There are lots of good kids just dying to take over, and if things don't improve, they will."

Shamrocks play the Pilseners in Vancouver tonight and at Memorial Arena tomorrow night in what may be their last-ditch bid for third place and the final playoff berth.

The Rocks could move past the idle Timbermen into third place with a win tonight, while a sweep would give them a three-point bulge and put all the pressure on the Nanaimo club.

Timbermen were scheduled to host New Westminster Salmonbellies last night. However, over Nanaimo protests, New Westminster arranged to have the game postponed because the ferry strike means their players would be too late arriving back in New Westminster.

Timbermen play in New Westminster Thursday and host the Salmonbellies Saturday night.

Archie Browning, who missed the last three games, will be back in action for the Shamrocks tonight, but centre Al Gill may miss the game.

Browning will play on a line with Bert Bertoia and Jim McNulty, with Jackie Nothup, Ed Kowalyk and Al Davies on the second line. Severson, Pee Wee Bradshaw and Ron Jay will form the other line, with Gill replacing Jay if he is available.

Low Landess and Art Green will be on one defensive unit in front of Gordie Johnston, with Tommy Druce teaming up with junior Phil Willis on the other defensive line.

Eastern Canada's touring all-star cricket team, sparked by Ontario's Brian Christen, swept to victory in both their exhibition matches against Victoria yesterday.

Christen, rated as probably the outstanding fast bowler in Canada, showed yesterday that he also can be a deadly batsman. Christen scored a century, hitting 102 runs while the easterners scored 198 for five wickets declared. The Colts hit 98 runs.

J. Davies, with 42, and J. W. Chappell, with 30, were the other top eastern batsmen. Best bowlers for the Colts were John Sheather, who took three wickets for 34 runs, and Mike Gerry, who took two for 28.

Peter Clarke batted 46 not out for the Colts and Chris Longridge added 19 runs.

On Sunday, Christen took five wickets for 38 runs, including 10 overs, while the east scored 174 runs for eight wickets. Chappell, the Eastern team captain, scored 66 runs not out and R. H. Snell scored 36 before being caught.

Pick of the Victoria side was Jim Richards, who accounted for three wickets for 79 runs and scored 26 overs. Bob Mainwaring sparked the Victoria batsmen scoring 30 runs including two lusty sixes.

The touring team winds up its Vancouver Island visit by playing Cowichan CC at Duncan tomorrow.

DUBLIN (AP)—Dublin defeated Louth 14-9 in the Leinster senior football final at Navan Sunday.

Magee and Tom Flores.

Coaches in the west are generally optimistic regarding the coming season, but with the usual reservations.

Jim Pinks, Calgary general manager, says his team looks "better than last year, but I'm not making any predictions."

Observers indicated the team still needs better passing and defence.

Ken Preston, manager of Saskatchewan Roughriders, reports that the Riders, crippled by injuries last year, have their best backfield in several years, but that the line remains the big question mark.

Winnipeg Blue Bombers have run into a rash of minor injuries during their training period.

Coach Bud Grant, with quarterback Kenny Ploen, Gerry James, Leo Lewis, Charlie Sheppard, Dennis Mendyk and Bob McNamara all returning, is expected to have one of the league's strongest backfields.

Flood's Home Run Defeats Milwaukee

Rookie outfielder Curt Flood slammed his sixth home run of the season in the 14th inning last night to give St. Louis Cardinals a 5-4 victory over Milwaukee Braves and drop the Braves a full game back of the idle San Francisco Giants in the tight National League pennant race.

Flood's dramatic blow provided additional excitement for major league fans who were still talking about Sunday's day of brilliant pitching, capped by a no-hitter by Jim Dunning of Detroit Tigers.

Low Burdette went the distance for Milwaukee last night and suffered his eighth loss in 17 decisions although the Braves out-hit the Cardinals, 16-10.

Wally Moon sent 'em game into extra innings with a ninth-single by Joe Ginsberg gave Baltimore Orioles a 3-2 win over Cleveland Indians. Arnold Portocarrero, a sure-arm case last year, pitched a two-hitter for his ninth victory.

In the National League, the Braves broke loose with two runs in the ninth to take the Cubs, 4-2, and give lefty Warren Spahn his 12th win of the season on a five-hitter.

The Giants routed Bob Friend with five runs in the first inning and went on to take Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-3. Dick Stuart homered for the Pirates, his fourth since joining the club.

At Cincinnati, Sad Sam Jones struck out 12 and gave up seven hits in pitching the Cardinals to a 3-1 triumph over the Redlegs. Jones leads both leagues in strikeouts with 124.

Los Angeles Dodgers got out of the cellar for 24 hours with a 6-0 victory over Philadelphia Phillies. Johnny Podres won his ninth in 10 starts at Los Angeles Coliseum on four hits to bring the Dodgers out of the cellar for the first time since May 12th.

Mounties Dropped From First Place

They were back in second place last night as they dropped a 9-3 decision to the Seattle Rainiers. Seattle collected 13 hits off three Vancouver pitchers while veteran righthander Max Surkont held the Mounties to eight scattered hits.

Mounties had climbed into first place Sunday by blanking the Phoenix Giants, 4-0, on George Bamberger's eight-hitter.

A crowd of 5,785 watched Sunday's game, bringing the total attendance for the series in 40,007, a new series record for Capilano Stadium.

HAVERTOWN, Pa.—A.P. Newsum, a well-known and highly professional golfer, was seeking championship glory with a 74-hole score of 270 as a 16-year-old guest came back to haunt the great senior. "I don't think I've ever been so nervous in my life," Newsum said. "That was just one stroke better than I had. I think I lost it. This tournament is not the Masters. I don't who played the 1981, how and what a 20 for '81."

with 18 holes to play in, there was a repeat of his 1980 one-on-one head-to-head duel. The 28-year-old native of the National Open at one Finsbury drove to one Philadelphia. There, meeting a lot of his rate tournament first five on the last one to take major wins with a brilliant the crown he blew to a complete closing 67, three under par.

The victory yielded $300,000,000 for the state of New York, but only $100,000,000 for the federal government. Since New York had a population more than 50,000,000 and the rest of the country had only 20,000,000, the state was more than 50,000,000/20,000,000 = 2.5 times larger than the rest of the country. The state's two-year victory would yield $100,000,000/2.5 = $40,000,000 for the federal government.

NO. 186—HUNDRETH YEAR

VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, TUESDAY, JULY 22, 1958

SECOND NEWS SECTION

City Using Water At Record Rate

JOHN COPPINGER

Won't Run Out This Year, But Wet Winter Vital

If hot, dry weather continues, Greater Victoria will probably break all records for use of water this summer, water commissioner Ronald Upward said yesterday.

The city won't run out of water, he said, but unless the winter is reasonably wet there is a possibility of rationing in the summer of next year.

Measurements of total consumption of water in Greater Victoria for the month of June showed that the city used 10,000,000 gallons, a record for the month.

36,000,000 GALLONS

For the month of June, the city used 36,000,000 gallons of water, a record for the month. This is a record for the month of June, and for the year to date.

It would take a consumption of 25,000,000 gallons a day for six months to equal the record for the month of June.

Mr. Upward said that the danger is that the city might be drained of water in the summer of next year, and that the water supply might be rationed.

Further, he said that the city might be forced to ration water in the summer of next year, and that the water supply might be rationed.

Chamber Names Manager

A 36-year-old Winnipeg man has been appointed manager of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce in succession to Arnold Webb.

John Coppinger, chosen from about 100 applicants, came to the city by a committee of the Victoria Chamber, his assistant secretary, manager of the Winnipeg Chamber of Commerce for three years.

Hugh Stephen, chamber president, said Mr. Coppinger would take up his duties here Sept. 1.

Mr. Coppinger was born and educated in Winnipeg and has a Bachelor of Commerce degree from the University of Manitoba. He has been a member of the Chamber of Commerce in Winnipeg for 15 years.

He served in the war with the RCAF and the Army, and was in the Pacific and Europe.

Two years ago Mr. Coppinger participated in the M. J. M. University course for Chamber of Commerce managers, and finished in second place.

Mr. Coppinger is married to a Victoria girl, the daughter of Stan L. for B.C. registrar of companies.

Mr. Webb, at present on vacation, is due to take up an important though yet undetermined position at the beginning of August.

Esquimalt Substation Planned

B.C. Electric plans to build a third electrical substation in Greater Victoria and first in Esquimalt at the corner of Ableby and Viewfield streets.

The site is about 100 feet by 100 feet and is owned by the city of Esquimalt. The cost of the substation is estimated at $1,500,000.

Discussion was made by the company's operations manager in Victoria, M. C. Freeman, after Esquimalt municipal council last night approved an application from the company for rezoning of part of the property.

Letter of application, from B.C. Electric, said the substation would be essential in four to seven years, depending on the load growth.

The Ableby Viewfield site was chosen because it is a central area to be served by the municipality and in particular, its growing industrial district. Municipal engineer John Grame estimated the site as three acres.

Mr. Freeman said distribution lines would be placed underground but a decision has not been made yet on whether high tension lines would be underground or overhead.

The high tension lines may come in from Saanich.

The Navy's Coming 'Home'

Most of the West Coast command of Canada's navy returns to home port at Esquimalt this week.

Twelve ships, away at R.C. ports on centennial appearances, return at 3 p.m. Thursday. They are HMCS Ontario, Crescent, Fraser, Skeena, Margaree, Athabaskan, Stettler, Antigonish, New Waterford, Beacom Hill, Jonquiere, New Glasgow.

The oceanographic vessel, Oshawa, leaves at 9 a.m. today and doesn't return from survey work until Aug. 17.

Does Area Board Want Ross Bay?

An effort to have the Greater Victoria cemetery board take over administration of Ross Bay Cemetery from the city, with a view to putting it in better condition, will be recommended to city council.

This decision was made yesterday by the city council, after a report from the cemetery board, which is a committee of the city council, was received.

The cemetery board, which is a committee of the city council, is made up of representatives of the city council, the city council, and the city council.

Cold Sea Breezes Blow Away Bingo Joys

It was fun when the sun was shining, but the cheerful faces at 8 p.m. began to disappear as 3,400 bingo patrons huddled together against chill sea breezes sweeping in over Royal Athletic Park last night. —(Colonist photo by Ted Harris.)

Outdoor Bingo Gets Chilling Reception

Victoria's first outdoor bingo was a cold one, as the temperature fell to a low of 40 degrees last night. The game was played at the Eagles bingo hall, and the players were chilled by the cold sea breezes.

Extra Services Planned

The people of Victoria are flocking to such numbers to hear the first Negro minister to take over a church in the city that he has had to schedule extra services.

Rev. Nelson B. Higgins, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Los Angeles, has had standing room only crowds for his 11 a.m. services at St. Aidan's United Church here for the last two Sundays.

People are calling and asking for evening services, and about 25 arrived at the church last evening. Higgins, thinking there might be an evening service, he said yesterday.

The elders of the church have accordingly felt it would be a public service to hold evening services for the next two Sundays. He said.

Next Sunday, at 7:30 p.m., Mr. Higgins will preach on "Christ, the Church, and Race."

Mr. Higgins, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Los Angeles, has had standing room only crowds for his 11 a.m. services at St. Aidan's United Church here for the last two Sundays.

People are calling and asking for evening services, and about 25 arrived at the church last evening. Higgins, thinking there might be an evening service, he said yesterday.

The elders of the church have accordingly felt it would be a public service to hold evening services for the next two Sundays. He said.

Next Sunday, at 7:30 p.m., Mr. Higgins will preach on "Christ, the Church, and Race."

You, Too Can Eat Like Henry VIII

LONDON (WNS) — If you cannot eat like Henry VIII, you cannot eat like a king. This advice comes from Peter Herbert, manager of the famous Elizabethan Room at London's Ritz Hotel, an expert on the cooking of the golden era of Henry and his daughter Elizabeth.

Ancient Law Allows Girl to Cook Meals in All the Best Places

LONDON (WNS) — London's top restaurant chefs are in a stew about a young manicurist named Grace Barrett who patronizes their establishments but brings her own hamburgers and insists on cooking them herself.

The chefs cannot stop her, because an English law dating back to 1473 permits such conduct.

Every married Herbert serves a prepared poultry dish, as well as the traditional roast beef, to the guests of the Ritz Hotel. The Ritz Hotel is a famous London hotel. The Ritz Hotel is a famous London hotel. The Ritz Hotel is a famous London hotel.

Plums Need Pruning

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

The successful cultivation of plum trees depends very largely upon attention they receive during the summer and early autumn months.

As the plum trees are now in leaf, the pruning should be done before the leaves fall.

For this reason, if you have plum trees, the pruning should be done before the leaves fall.

Large wounds will heal much more rapidly at this time of the year than those made in the winter months, and there is no danger of frost damage to the wounds.

For this reason, if you have plum trees, the pruning should be done before the leaves fall.

Paris Was Never Like This Little Leon, What Next?

By a Staff Reporter
LEON, a small, dark, and very curious-looking creature, was seen in the background of a photograph taken by a reporter at B.C. is a short Frenchman, Leon Bernard of the picture magazine Paris Match.

Leon is the photographer who was plucked off the fire escape of the Belmont Building in Victoria with a large, 500-millimetre telephoto lens on his camera, trying to get a picture of the Princess in the privacy of her suite on the Empress.

At Fort St. John, Leon photographed the arrival of the Princess and then ran like mad across a small section of lawn. There was a thin wire strung across the lawn about ankle level. Leon hit it and then hit the ground. Having righted himself, he was back on his feet.

At Prince George, Leon met his bag of cameras and camera equipment.

TV TALK

By Bruce Lowther

File Savard, able CBS newsmen, belongs to the school that admits TV "could do with a sharp rise in quality" but insists it also needs "a sharp drop in the quantity of criticism."

ACKS SAVARD: "How many writers who Booth Tarkington's "Seventeen" are posing as critics of TV dramas? How many lady journalists who never covered city council are telling TV news departments how they should cover national conventions? How many boy graduates who can't tell a test tube from a peavy hook are instructing networks in the right and wrong of their science programs?

"And how many nice guys who can just whistle the first bit of four popular refrains are teaching quite lively in print the operatic and musical comedies on the little screen?"

I happen to think that a shocking percentage of TV fare is lousy. I think that is partly due to TV's confusion as to just what it is and where it ought to be going, and I also happen to think that it is partly due to the fantastically irresponsible, inconsistent, pulling and hauling it is getting from the printed press.

He winds up: "About one review in four of a carefully constructed TV show will make real sense and teach you something you should have known, whether it's favorable or unfavorable. The others, even the favorable ones, read the way a dog's breakfast looks."

TV BITS: Major show today is the dedication at Fort Langley by Princess Margaret at 2:30 p.m. on channels 2, 6 and 12. Channel 1 may have films of the Washington Russia crew race at 6:30. New shows are Keep Talking, Rhapsody and Men in Battle.

Mantovani plays a series of 30 half-hour music shows. CBS has assigned Daniel Schorr as its newsman in Moscow but Russia has refused to let him in because of his interview of delegates to the Community Youth Festival last year. Bob Hawk, the original $64 Question man, plans a TV panel show. Sonny Flux, first $64,000 Challenge emcee who was fired for

Four Drivers Charged

GEN. A. G. L. McNAUGHTON
... give and take

All-Sooke Day Celebrations Carry Over to Police Court

All-Sooke Day carried over under suspension, while George, causing bodily harm to Mrs. into Monday in Sooke police court for four drivers. Also remanded without plea to Wednesday in the same court was Ruth Charles, Craigflower Road, charged with assault on a broken beer glass.

Lea Albert Fortin, 3060 Earl Grey; Gordon Wright, 2854 Peatt; Donald Lloyd Barker, 2845 Inlet and Robert George, Milnes Landing, pleaded guilty to charges of impaired driving in the Sooke district Saturday. Each was fined $200 and $6.50 costs.

In addition Barker was remanded without plea to Wednesday on a charge of driving while

'We're Not Ornery About Columbia,' Says McNaughton

SPOKANE (AP)—Canada is not "trying to be ornery or cussed" in its stand on the use of Columbia River drainage waters, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton said Monday.

"We will give on some points and be given to on others. We are reasonable men," said the head of the Canadian section of the International Joint Commission, which negotiates the use of the river's water.

TOUR OF COLUMBIA

Gen. McNaughton, Douglas McKay, former secretary of the Interior and head of the American section, and 30 other members of the commission from both sides of the border left here Monday for a 12-day tour of the drainage area of the mighty Columbia.

"Each of our countries can make the best possible usage of the water resources which God gave us," said Gen. McNaughton.

LIBBY SITE

One of the first sites to be visited was that of the proposed Libby dam on the Kootenai River in northwestern Montana. This dam, backed by the Americans, would eliminate the yearly flood threat at Bonners Ferry, Idaho, and other points, but would back water some 47 miles into the rich farm and lumbering land of East Kootenay in British Columbia.

Gen. McNaughton said Canada was opposed not only to the flooding of land but also to psychological aspects. Raising and lowering the reservoir behind the dam would create vast muddy reaches, making ferry service impractical over the hard-to-bridge backwater. Thus, the reservoir would separate communities and disrupt commerce.

Many Americans seem to feel that eastern British Columbia is some sort of vast, uninhabited Arctic region, he said.

But Gen. McNaughton said Canada "certainly is still willing to discuss the Libby site or any other site" and has suggested a lower dam that would back water only to the site of a proposed Canadian dam.

New Relief for Hay Fever Victims with this new Tablet Invention

Clear, free breathing restored in minutes as congested nose-sinus zone is de-congested —stops sneezing, watery, itching eyes

Toronto, Ont. (Special) Observers here are hailing a remarkable new advance against the most unrelenting misery of hay fever—congestion in the nose-sinus zone.

A way has been found to decongest this congestion. This is the central fact which has aroused so much interest on the part of hay fever sufferers who have never found satisfactory relief.

Up to now, nose drops, eye drops, inhalers, sprays and antihistamines have given some measure of relief. But today you can expect much more complete comfort. This new compound reaches all the congested nasal areas from all sides, through the blood stream. It opens stuffed-up, blocked nasal passages. Free breathing is restored in minutes. Stop unpleasant sneezing, watery, itching eyes are cleared.

New Tablet Invention
It took a new kind of tablet—in fact a unique three layer tablet invention—to combine the special ingredients which make this formula so amazingly effective. Among them is a new decongestant substance so effective it has become the single ingredient most prescribed by doctors for relief of congestion in the nose-sinus area.

Available without prescription—this new tablet invention is called Dristan. Its unique combination of ingredients—(1) opens up blocked breathing, (2) stops unpleasant sneezing, (3) clears red, watery, itching eyes.

Hay fever sufferers who want fast, complete relief are notified that Dristan Decongestant Tablets are available without prescription. $1.25 at all drug stores.
